Caro
Città Alla Notte

Caro feels a lot of things. Sometimes he feels full of the juices of youth and the need to dance. Sometimes he feels like an old man, lost in the city at night, confused about all the changes, these new constructions without style, this modern ugliness. So his music combines joy and melancholy in inviting you to feel some of what he's feeling, and most of all to jack your body.

There are strong Latin beats here, along with techno, electro and synthpop flavors and insinuating vocals. Call it disco noir, if you like. But though Caro's influences will be clear to any historians of body music, this is not some retro kitsch. It's modern dance music, straight from the heart.
